FREIGHT TRAFFIC IS LIGHT

Fewer Cars Being Moved by Indianapolis Lines and Some Grumbling.

Opening of Lake Routes and Bad Country Roads Permit Accumulation of Cars on Side Tracks First Time in Months.

Freight men are disappointed over the tonnage of freight moving, and empty cars, for the first time in months, are accumulating on side tracks. The opening of lake pavigation is, in part, the cause of the light east-bound through business, but, so far as Indianapolis lines are concerned, the light business is due to the wretched condition of the country roads, as a result of the heavy rains of some weeks past, which delays farmers in their spring work, and prevents their getting to the railway stations with their products for ship-The train records show that 147 fewer loaded cars were received and forwarded at Indianapolis in the week ending May 6 than in the preceding week, 512 fewer cars than in the corresponding week of 1892, but an increase of 455 loaded cars over the corresponding week of 1891. Not in the last ten years has the grain movement eastward been so light in May as at present. But an early improvement is looked for, which is based on an increased inquiry for cars and rates the last two or three days. The east-bound shipments of export flour and corn prodnots from Indianapolis proper, however, are in excess of those of the corresponding period last year. Live stock phipments to Eastern markets and tor export are now lighter than for some years; but in June an increased movement is looked for. Local business continues very satisfactory, especially with north-and-south lines. Train loads of fruits and vegetables of Southern growth are coming North, and large quantities of Southern pine for Northern manufactories. The in-bound shipments of building material are heavy, as are also those of brick and stone for street imprevements. The commission houses are basy and help to swell the out-bound business, the larger towns in the gas belt depending on this market for their supplies. The receipts of live stock are heavier than last month. The roads are handling but little coal, as Indianapolis manufactories are now all using natural gas for fuel. Below is given the number of cars received and forwarded at this point for the week ending May 6, as compared with the corresponding weeks of the preceding two years:

Rates Must Be Raised.

One of the leading banking houses of Philadelphia has sent out a circular on the subject of reform in transportation rates, demonstrating the necessity of raising railroad tariffs. Among others to whom a circular was sent was Grand Chief Arthur, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engipeers. The circular alluded to is lengthy. going into details, and closing as follows: "The shippers of this country, the principal users of our railroads, and the hundreds of thousands of railroad employes should be rates do not benefit them. What is needed is stability in rates, so that a business man with a month bence through a change in rates for the class of goods he ships.

"If capital and labor could only unite in the right sort of efforts to bring about the necessary reforms in railroad methods and management, we would, in my judgment, have greater prosperity in this country in the future than has ever been seen in the Grand Chief Arthur in his answer says: "If the men who are selected by the owners of railroad property would come together and arrange upon a rate for the transportstion of the traffic of the country, there would be no occasion for them doing business at a loss. The public at large do not demand it. The great difficulty is, each one seems to act independent of the other, and are governed altogether by selfish motives; consequently the cutting of rates commences. It is a ruinous policy, and no one but the managers of the properties are responsible for it. There is no question but that the railroads of the country to-day are not receiving a fair compensation for the work performed. You may rest asgured that the employes will always be found ready at all times to do what they can to Becure the enactment of laws that will protect the railroads against unjust demands."

The Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton handled at Indianapolis last week a total of 1,237 cars; of this number 907 were loaded. The percentage of empty cars bandled on this road is unusually large.

The four Pennsylvania lines handled at Indianapolis, in the week ending May 6, a total of 5,599 cars; of this number 3,865 were loaded. It will be noticed that the emptycar movement is unusually heavy for these

The Big Four lines, in the week ending May 6 reverved and forwarded at Indianapolis a total of 10,752 cars; of this number 8,526 were loaded. This was a decrease of 29 loaded cars as compared with the number handled in the week preceding.

The loaded-car movement east and west is unusually even. The indianapolis division of the Pennsylvania lines received but eighty-one more loaded cars than it forwarded; on the Vandalia there were but sixty-eight more cars received than were forwarded west, and the east-and-west movement over the Big Four lines differed but a few cars.

The Monon will stir up its competitors by putting on tickets to go via Michigan City and the lake to Chicago, and returning all rail, meeting any rates the Lake Erie & Western may decide to make. Indications are for lively times between these two roads in the next thirty days. [From the Second Edition of the Sunday Journal.] Tories Thwarted.

LONDON, May 6.—The discussion of the home-rule bill will be resumed in the committee of the House on Monday. Although the dreary waste of amendments has already extended to the thirty-third page, the opposition are far from being satisfied with the promise of detail. They had formed a plan to elaborate their obstructive tactics by means of thirteen so-called instructions, which, in their essence, were nothing more nor less than thirteen resolutions render the measure nugatory. This scheme was thwarted, however, by the Speaker, who immediately ruled that the instructions were out of order. This ruling was a sad blow to the hopes of Balfour and Chamberlain, who had been calculating upon wasting upon their motion two or three weeks of the committee's time. Their only alternative now is to concentrate their energies upon manufacturing, moving and discussing amendments.

The situation created by the Speaker's ruting was considered last evening by forty Unionists representing the Balfour and Chamberlain wings of the opposition, Mr. Baifour and Lord Churchill did most of the talking at the meeting for the Conservatives, Mr. Chamberlain for the Utster Unionists and Colonel Saunderson for the Ulster Loyalists. The most important decisions were that the Unionists oppose any attempt to exclude Ulster from the full operation of the home-rule bill and that the government should pass the Parnellite amendment providing for the retention at Westminster of all 103 Irish members, instead of but 80, as proposed by the bill. The Unionists endeavor to make this retention conditional upon a redistribution of Irish seats. The attitude of Gladstone toward this amendment has been so variously stated that yesterday Justin McCarthy and John Dillon called upon the Premier to obtain from him an unequivocal declaration in the matter. They received from him positive assurances that he would not yield his determination to keep in the House 103 Irish members with votes on all questions. At the same time Mr. Gladstone said that he would not consent, under any circumstances, to the redistribution of seats advocated by the opposition.

Bad Use of Money. LAFAYETTE, Ind., May 6 .- To-day Prosecuting Attorney Wood filed a large number of affidavits in answer to the affidavit and motion for a new trial of Bartholomew Murphy, one of the convicted rioters. Murphy's athdavits alleged that three of the jurors expressed opinions concerning the case befidavits denying the charge of Murphy. and say they never used the language attributed to them. Affidavits are also filed stating that the affiants heard one of the men who filed the charges against juryman Packer say "He would make any atil-davit for anything for $25." Another atildavit states that defendant Murphy asked affiant to make an affidavit against juror Packer, and said to him, "He did not believe in a man working for nothing, and that if he would make such an affidavit he would pay him for it." Prosecuting Attorney William R. Wood himself filed an affidavit, saying he "Has reason to believe and does believe that money has been improperly used by the defendant for the purpose of securing affidavite in support of his motion for a new trial, and that large sums of money have been solicited in the State of Indiana and adjoining States for the accomplishment of the purpose herein before referred to, and for the purpose of defeating justice in this case, and that as evidence of said fact he filed a letter of S. LONDON, May 6.-The British women's temperance convention ended last evening. As the business has been conducted behind closed doors, the details of the turbulent proceedings are not easily obtainable. Lady Somerset, president, and Miss Francis Willard left the city peal taken. immediately after the adjournment. Your General Rosecrans Resigna. correspondent, however, was able to obtain some interesting information concerning the convention, from Mrs. Docure. secretary of the British Women's Association, and the leader of the minority against Lady Somerset. Mrs. Docure says: "Lady Somerset wishes to introduce politics into a strictly temperance organization-for instance, such questions as the eight-hour workorans is unable to undertake the long jouringday, woman suffrage and the opium traffic. She got a committee ney to Washington and does not hold out any hope that he will be able to do so in the elected to support her views and purposes, but it was not legally elected. A number of the branches of the association have se-ceded. We shall take no immediate steps toward organization, but shall wait developments. Beauties of the World's Fair. CHICAGO, May 6.—Not since its founda-tion has the "White City" looked more beautiful than it did to-day, and never since its foundation, save the day it was dedicated and on last Monday, when it was formally opened to the world, has there been as many visitors present. From the estimates made by the keepers there were at least 40,000 visitors admitted to the grounds. The chair-wheelers did a thriving business, and the gondoliers from Venuce, in their bright colored costumes, were kept on the go all day.

The buildings and roadways are practi-cally finished, although much yet remains to be done in the way of placing the ex-hibits. However, it would require a visitor from now to the 1st of June to see all that is now presentable and complete. Even in its unfinished form, the fair to-day caused the representatives of the six great nations of Europe to marvel at its magnitude and wonder at its besuty. The Queen of Sheba was not more astonished at Solor on's glittering court than were they at the artistic splender and greatness of the "White City" at Jackson Park. There were officers from the navies and armies of Germany, Great Britain, France, Italy, Russia and Spain in the party which visited the fair. They were men who had traveled all over the world; men who had seen wonderful sights, and yet they marveled when they entered the gates of the World's Columbian Exposition.

Clarkson Talks Fairly. New York, May 6.—James S. Clarkson, president of the Republican National League, in speaking of the Republican gathering and conference at Louisville next week, said: "There are to be no factional lines or contests at Louisville. We go there, instead, to unify all Republicans. If there is a Harrison line in our politics or a Harrison faction, we shall be glad to welcome them, together with all Republicans. Ex-President Harrison was the first person I invited to attend and address the National League convention, and I made the invitation cordial and urgent. He replied in a courteous letter, expressing sympathy with the objects of the meeting, but saying he feared he would not be able to attend. still hope he may come, and he does we shall give him an old-fashioned Republican welcome. I have certainly no personal ambition to serve, nor any factional line raise. Under no possible circumstances would I consent to accept re-election as president of the League, both because I have made business engagements that would absolutely forbid it and still more because I am in favor of putting new men and young men in these party places and thus bringing young blood to the front and new elements into the party."

Unmasked the Spirits. ANDERSON, Ind., May 6 .- Spiritualism in this city received somewhat of a blow last night. The spirit phenomena regarding seances was exposed at the residence of Henry Kessler. Mr. Kessler and wife are not spiritualists, but have been making investigations in spiritualistic circles of late. They consented to having seances at their residence, and that of last night was the end of a series. J. C. Hinderer, representative of several musicalinstrument houses, was the medium. At former seances evidences fraud had been detected, and last night it was decided test the spirit powers of Mr. Hinderer. He consented to being inclosed in a cabinet of lace curtains and a clothes rack. The room was darkened and the seance began by a trumpet hammering on the floor and striking persons in the circle. Mr. Kessler and others were confident that the tin horn or trumpet had been in the hands of Hinderer or a confederate. A match was struck and the curtains were found to be torn down. Other evidence of fraud was discovered by several persons recognizing a whispering spirit as a boy here who speaks with a deeided list. Among those in the circle was D. C. Chipman, one of Anderson's best-known attorneys. He believes the workings of the seance to be a "fake." Sporting Exhibition at Muncie. MUNCIE, Ind., May 6.-A benefit was given Mickey Norton, the clever little Cincinnati pugilist, to-night, at the Walnutstreet Opera House, and about five hundred people paid 50 cents admission to see the sparring exhibition. Several pugilists were present and gave three-round exhibitions with six-ounce gloves. Officers were present to see that the law was not violated, but some pretty severe boxing was seen. Norton first boxed three rounds with Will Welch, of Charleston, W. Va., and the Virginia light-weight did some good work. Daniel Lyons, the Birmingham bantam, next sparred Norton three rounds. Lyons and Welch sparred three rounds, as did Jack Conley and Dan Bailiff. Fred Johnson and Charles Mitchell, both colored, of Springfield, O., sparred three rounds. Everything about the hand-some clubhouse had a Spanish aspect. The music rendered while the distinguished party was banqueting was Spanish. The menu was printed in the, Spanish language, and the dishes, wines cigars and cigarettes were Spanish. Spansib waiters served the guests, and the banquet room was decorated with the national colors of Spain. About sixty guests sat at the table. Among them were the Hon. Wm. Nellie Payne Guilty.

FOWLER, Ind., May 6.—In the Payne case the argument began last night for the State, Grant Hall, prosecutor, making the opening speech. When court convened toargue the case, thus shutting prosecutor Brown off from making his final speech to the jury. The jury retired at 11:30 o'clock this forenoon, and the general opinion was that the fair prisoner would be found guilty. This proved correct. The bell rang at 5 P. M. announcing that the jury had agreed and in ten minutes the court room was jammed with people anxious to hear the verdict. The jurymen filed in solemnly and the verdict was read, finding Mrs. Payne guilty of attempted murder as charged and sending her to the woman's prison for four years. The announcement did not seem to affect her in the least and she made no demonstration. The verdict is generally approved and the jury is commended. A motion was at once made for a new trial, which was overruled and an ap-

A Ten Million Cubic Foot Well, GAS CITY, Ind., May 6.- A gas well which reached Trenton rock here to-day has proved to be a producer of the first class. The drill gang, which is the same that has drilled nearly all the wells in this section of the gas field and a great many in various other sections, agree that it is one of largest wells ever drilled in belt. When the drill was a few feet in Trenton rock the gas began to rush to the surface, but the workmen kept the machinery pounding away until the lifting power of the gas was too great to continue it longer with any effect. At the time of stopping the drill had penetrated about thirty feet into the gas-bearing rock, and the roar of the escaping gas made the ground tremble. It is estimated that the well has a daily flow of 10,000,000 cubic feet. Not a particle of moisture or oil comes from the well, and this fact adds immensely to the value of the strike.

Treasury Smelling Committee. WASHINGTON, May 6 .- Secretary Car-lisle to-day decided to appoint a committee of three prominent men, familiar with the intricacies of the tariff law and custom-house methods, to make a thorough and complete investigation of the customhouse appraisers stores and naval office at the port of New York. The efficiency of the present force, their honesty, attention to business, allegations of favoritism to importers and kindred subjects will form the basis of the investigation.

Yard Master Fatally Injured. WABASH, Ind., May 6.-This morning Harry Flinn, aged twenty-seven, night yard master of the Big Four railroad company at this point, was caught between a gondols and a caboose, which he was attempting to couple, and so badly crushed that he will die. Flinn's shoulder was broken, and at first it was thought this was the extent of his injuries, but later internal hemorrhage set in and he sank rapidly. The surgeons do not think he will outlive the night.
